"Spamalot is a big, silly, dumb, hilarious night at the theatre and I'm so thrilled to be a part of it. There is nothing subtle about Monty Python and the lighting for Spamalot is about as subtle as a projectile cow. It's bold and colorful full of bumps and ballyhoos and even some lighting gags that further heighten the humor. After working in the business for 18 years, Spamalot is my Broadway debut as a designer, and I couldn't be happier to be doing it alongside so many friends with such a great support team of assistants, electricians, and vendors. The show encourages everyone to look on the 'bright side' of life and I hope everyone leaves whistling a tune with a huge smile on their face."
