

City Theatrical's Farewell to Lightwright
November 2020

On January 1, 2021, our friend John McKernon will take over the distribution of Lightwright himself, bringing the 21 year business relationship between John and City Theatrical to an end. We wish John many more years of Lightwright success. We had a lot of fun with John over the years, and we helped to grow Lightwright into the industry leader that it is today.

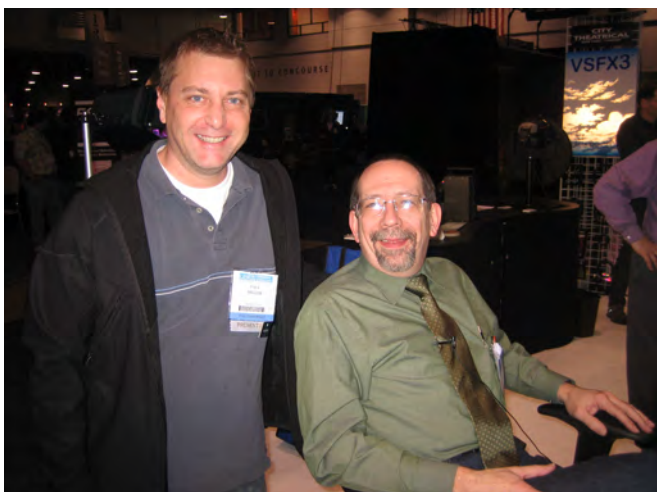

Here are a few photos of John from trade shows (wow, remember those) over the years. Good luck, John!
